Company history

Ten years ago, Vigen Grigoryan started his business:
"Gregorian" group, to invest his 20 years of experience, creativity, and passion for creating a new direction in the Armenian alcohol industry.

These ten years our company has been working on the sells of high quantity alcoholic drinks. In these years, we could develop our technologies, new types of products. We have become a distributor of wine and spirits to many Armenian, Russian, Ukrainian alcohol-producing companies.

In 2020 we decided to start our own bottled product to share our achievements with direct costumers and change their perception about high-quality alcoholic drinks.

Our technologies

We use high standard European technologies based on Armenian traditions. In the result we get the product with their special fingerprints.

The best example of that product is our Vodka Horovel, made from Armenian endemic wheats malt and distilled by Italian and German technologies.

"Yev" wines idea

The story of our wine design and name;
In the beginning, we decided to make something minimalistic and easy, which will be far from typical Armenian wine names and label styles (where people usually use some historical names or something about the grape, vine, or vineyard). We choose the name "Yev".?

In the Armenian language symbol"և" (yev) means ?and.?
It emphasizes the ideology of wine, as the"և" (eng. and) connects words, sentences, and thoughts, our wine can connect friends, lovers, family in one word people.

Horovel (plow song), the traditional song of the Armenian peasant farm work (also the main type of song), which was played while plowing, to inspire the working animals, to lighten and stimulate the work. He also expressed the social complaint, personal emotions, and feelings of the villager. We tried to transfer that emotions and feelings through our vodka to our customers.
